Transforming Healthcare.

CASE STUDY:

Agenda 1 Analytical Services

“Medilink are not only helping raise the profile of Agenda1 but have also enabled us to represent our business as a voice of authority on how the business of science should be delivered.”

Ian Siragher, Managing Director,
Agenda 1

Agenda 1 employ analytical techniques to support organisations with complex manufacturing processes. Working closely with their management team, Medilink PR have developed and delivered a bespoke communications project for them.

THE CHALLENGE

Our goal was to raise the company's profile primarily across a 100 mile radius of the company, and also within the United Kingdom.

THE SOLUTION

Working with traditional, digital and social media, Medilink PR used a number of communication elements to achieve this, including distribution of press releases, social media management and encouraging interaction with other leading industry contacts and stakeholders

Medilink PR are also utilising search engine optimisation techniques on the Agenda 1 blog, allowing us to use it as a conduit for traffic to the company's main website.
